

Total Regeneration from within

The World's Only Swiss Original
VEGETAL Placental Cell Extracts

MFIII DERMACENTA™ VP SOFTGELS ADVANCED FORMULA

MFIII of Switzerland has a long standing history in specialised Research & Development of cellular and placenta-based nutritional supplements. Combining over 80 years of top-level strategy experiences with specialised knowledge in cellular therapy, stem cell extraction and the latest ultrafiltration technology, MFIII delivers the ultimate lasting solution to your well being - VP Softgels Advanced Formula (aka VP Plus), total regeneration from within.

Dermacenta™, the highly bioactive vegetal placental ingredient found in VP Softgels Advanced Formula is the scientific substitute for human or animal placenta as it offers the same efficacy and results. They are particularly noted to have similarity in amino acid content acting as bio-activator for natural skin development, thus revitalising cells naturally.

Dermacenta™ regenerates and invigorates the skin, enhances the release of stem cells in our body, stimulates cell renewal, improves oxygen supply in our cells and increases protein synthesis in our skin to maintain its radiance and youthfulness. The powerful properties also strengthen skin cells against premature photo-ageing and chronological ageing; thus, concluding the perfect rejuvenated, revitalised and regenerated skin.

Dermacenta™ is extracted from the cell cultures of a particularly rare species of a non-GMO (genetically modified organism) organic plant. Dermacenta is rich in amino acids, particularly Alanine and Proline, and is hydrolyzed by enzymes and biostimulins.

| Amino Acids | Vegetal Placenta | Human Placenta |
